Bookstore Scavenger Hunt

Split up from your partner and roam around the bookstore to find:

- A book about love.
- Something you'd like to do together.
- A place you'd like to visit with your partner.
- A book that describes your relationship.
- A recipe you'd like to make together.
- Something that will make your partner laugh.
- A book you think your partner will love.
- A title that shows how you feel about your partner.
- A book you'd like to read together.
- A book cover that reminds you of your partner.
- A book your partner would have loved as a child.

When you're both done, meet up to show each other your selections.
